So here we are, facing another passing of Nibiru and we're not sure what's going to happen

Greetings. I am not sure who to say hello to here ... Janet or Sasha or to both? I only recently discovered you're works on the Anunnaki & Nibiru. And I like your web site at <http://sacredmatrix.com/2011/02/05/galzu-by-sasha-lessin-ph-d-anthropology-u-c-l-a/>

On it, I found a most interesting statement ... "So here we are, facing another passing of Nibiru and we're not sure what's going to happen. Yet there are indicators that something major is about to occur. Bill Gates, Rockefeller and the GMO giants are the major financiers of the Doomsday Seed Vault in the Arctic. The Incan/Mayan calendars points to December 12, 2012 as a time of major transition as we will be in alignment with the center of the Milky Way Galaxy. Government and Vatican telescopes scour our Southern Skies. The Vedic stories indicate the end of the Kali Yuga. The Earth's magnetic poles have begun to shift. The planets of the solar system are warming up. What's happening? "

Most people consider Nibiru and the Anunnaki a legend or myth, but you appear to believe in them? To have a better idea of what could happen on this next visit, one must read about what happened on its last visit sometime between 1586 to 1600BCE From the E-Book version sold at www.yowusa.com

Here is a link to the Hardback version of the Kolbrin www.thekolbrin.com

MAN:6:1 "The dark days began with the last visitation of the Destroyer, and they were foretold by strange omens in the skies. All men were silent and went about with pale faces."

MAN:6:2 The leaders of the slaves, (One of which was Moses) which had built a city of glory of Thom, stirred up unrest, and no man raised his arm against them. They foretold great events of which the people were ignorant and of which the temple seers were not informed."

MAN:6:3 These were the days of ominous calm, when the people waited for they knew not what. The presence of an unseen doom was felt; the hearts of men were stricken. Laughter was heard no more, and grief and wailing sounded throughout the land. Even the voices of children were stilled, and they did not play together, but stood silent.”

MAN:6:4 “The Slaves became bold and insolent, and women were the possession of any man. Fear walked the land, and women became barren with terror, they could not conceive, and those with child aborted. All were closed up within themselves.”

MAN:6:5 “The days of stillness were followed by a time when the noise of trumpeting and shrilling was heard in the Heavens, (Came from Nibiru) and the people became as frightened beasts without herdsman, as when lions prowl without their fold.”

MAN:6:6 “The people spoke of the god of the slaves, (Israelites or the Hyksos) and reckless men said, “If we knew where this god were to be found, we would sacrifice to him.” [X] But the god of the slaves was not among them. He was not to be found within the swamplands or in the brickpits. His manifestation was in the Heavens (Nibiru) for all men to see, but they did not see with understanding. Nor would any god listen, for all were dumb because of the hypocrisy of men.”

MAN:6:7 “The dead were no longer sacred and were thrown into the waters. Those already entombed were neglected, and many became exposed. They lay unprotected against the thieves. He who once toiled long in the sun, bearing the yoke himself, now possessed oxen. He who grew no grain now owned a storehouse full. He who once dwelt at ease among his children now thirsted for water. He who once sat in the sun with crumbs and dregs was now bloated with food; he reclined in the shade, his bowls overflowing.”

MAN:6:8 “Cattle were left unattended to roam into strange pastures, and men ignored their marks and slew the beasts of their neighbors. No man owned anything.”

MAN:6:9 “The public records were cast forth and destroyed, and no man knew who were slaves and who were masters. The people cried out to the Pharaoh in their distress, but he stopped his ears and acted like a deaf man.” MAN:6:10 “There were those who spoke falsely before Pharaoh and had gods hostile towards the land, therefore the people cried out for the blood to appease it. But it was not these strange priests who put strife in the land instead of peace, for one was even of the household of Pharaoh and walked among the people unharmed.” (Moses)

MAN:6:11 “Dust and smoke clouds darkened the sky and colored the waters upon which they fell with a bloody hue. Plague was throughout the land, the river was bloody, and blood was everywh

2012: Ninmah Returns to Guide Humanity in the Age of Aquarius by Janet Kira Ninmah Lessin

Aloha Everyone,

The Anunnaki were as complex as humans and their characteristics are ours and our characteristics are theirs. We operate on an emotional/psychological kline and some control basic, evil (disregard for consciousness) tendencies better than others. But “nothing in the human condition is alien to any one of us.”

With that being said, we are all, Anunnaki, human and other alien, sentient life forms, souls that inhabit bodies. Our souls are separate entities from our bodies (see the works of Dr. Michael Newton in his series of books on “Life Between Lives”). Our bodies have DNA (programming) that affect the dynamics and personality inherent with the body. The soul and body are in a symbiotic relationship and the soul sometimes struggles with the true nature of the body they chose to inhabit during that current lifetime. But, and, the soul is the most powerful of the two and can overcome the natural tendencies of the body, thus learning the lessons that that lifetime in that body creates for the soul and the soul makes progress as an eternal being.

With that being said, all of us learn, grow, evolve, progress, Anunnaki, Human, Grey, Reptilian, etc. through our various lifetimes. In a way, we evolve faster because of our short lives and our constant going in and out of incarnations back and forth to the spiritual realms. The Anunnaki stay in one physical form for an extremely long time. And while they are long lived, they too have been known to die. And in the case of Thoth (and probably Enki and Ninmah and the others in the Enki-ite clan), they discovered true immortality by interacting with the Galzu in the Halls of Amenti and since we last heard from them (what’s been written in stone/clay tablets), they too have probably evolved to a great deal and are now poised, ready to deal with us in a more kind, loving, intelligent, spiritually-advanced fashion than before.

What’s keeping them from doing so is the age-old problem that faced them all along—they must wait for the proper “age” in order to take the leadership role. We are now poised at the brink of the Aquarian Age (Enki’s age) and when that critical point occurs (probably December 21, 2012), Enki will at last take rulership of the EArth (named after him, EA, EArth) and it's his turn to rule.

With what we know of Enki, he will more than likely be a far more benevolent ruler than any other ruler we've had before. And, from what I get through my channelings, he will not rule alone but will rule in true partnership with his beloved sister Ninmah. Ninmah is the true hero of this tale, long unrecognized for her part in humanity's story. She birthed us, is the geneticist that created us. If not for her science, her discovery and abilities as a geneticist, none of us would be here to read this.

She will at last be recognized and returned to full status as the unsung hero she is. She is the one, after the deluge, that promised us (humanity) that she would not allow us to perish again. So be prepared for Ninmah (her name means Momma, Mother) for she is God.dess who loves us and is now coming back to comfort and guide (not rule) us, her children.

Love, Blessings,
Janet Kira Ninmah Lessin

I see your point Joe. But although that is true it isn't the whole truth nor is it the complete picture. Not all the annunaki were like that. We know a lot about Enlil and Enki and they were the ones in charge, after the Deluge they were a lot more benevolent than before. Enki loved mankind. There is no doubt about that. When we destroy our planet with a global nuclear war probably next year, they will come and help us save our behinds, that is sure.

South Africa UFO Convention Theory: ETs Raid

Below is a dialogue from 1ANUNNAKI:

Ninmah says: Like all stories, even if the Gods retold "their story” the perspective would change based on the story teller. So which God do we believe? What version of reality is truly real?

Who ever has the “full story”? Look at today’s news? Even current issues are totally warped. How can we expect “history” to be accurate over the span of time viewed through the filters of endless “editors”?

Bottom line is reality is seen through the eyes of the billions of those who perceive reality through their own particular lenses. How can we create a consensus reality that results in a win-for-all?

All beings evolve. Thousands and even hundreds of thousands of years have passed since the original episodes of the gods were recorded in stone. We are not the same people we were then. Even the individual gods who live incredible long lives, are called “the immortals”, have experienced much and some have evolved, some devolved. All had/have lessons to learn from a soul perspective.

Can we come to a harmonic conclusion to this galactic melodrama that has spanned the ages?

I envision a reality where we sit down together and talk over the issues, like civilized, conscious beings, all equal citizens of the UNIVERSE and reach consensus, find a place in our hearts, minds and souls where we see the brotherhood and sisterhood of each being and remember the love and oneness we are. Unity consciousness runs through all life, all beings, all things, matter,

time, space, existence. We just need to remember who we really are.

This is the time we have been waiting for. We have an opportunity to wake up and move into conscious, higher awareness. We must meet those beings who approach us with the fullness of our totality and they will respond, return in kind and recognize the GodSource that runs through all of us.

Much Love, Blessings,

Janet Kira Ninmah

Earth For Gold

Good luck, John.

A story from half a million years or so ago which was probably less than complete from the “gods” and poorly understood by their “creation” which was stored in a difficult language to understand (and with much of the library missing) interpreted by individuals who are usually biased toward “science” or “religion” is not likely to ever have all the pieces made available to us today. About the only way I can see for us to understand with any level of completeness and accuracy is for the “gods” to retell the story to us rather than try to bring it forth from antiquity. Just my two cents worth.
