

Anunnaki Aliens Rule Planet Earth by Janet Kira Lessin

Aliens rule this world and they've been in charge all along. They govern us from the top of the all seeing eye of the pyramid down to the clerks at the county court house who dictate to us every nuance of how to live our lives. We are not free nor have we ever been. We're taxed up to our eyeballs. This money fuels this evil, Illuminati, corrupt, corporate, governmental, political, religious system.

Religions, politics and corporations are all instruments of the Anunnaki aliens who use these systems to subdivide and separate us. Anyone who believes in hierarchy and acts from it, feels superior or better, looks down their noses at another person, participates in prejudice, racism or judgment, is participating in their mass mind control psychological manipulation that creates the matrix that binds us in eternal slavery. This is hell, hell on Earth, a system created to keep us separate from one another, distanced from love which is our natural state. We are loving oneness. Yet this system disconnects us from one another, separates us and keeps us from truth and authentic, unconditional love. We hardly know love for we don't know who we are, we are so mind controlled and manipulated by the system, the Anunnaki alien system.

We are chem-trailed and GMO's, chemicals in our land, water, air slowly kill us starting in the womb before we're even born. We're mind controlled by our media, all media written and transmitted through waves blasted through the air which run through us continually short-circuiting our system and contributing to disease which rots us with illness, death, disease and corruption within ourselves and throughout the system. What a system. Where is God in all this anyway? Is there even such a thing as God?

God is an idea, a concept hijacked by the evil, Illuminati, Extraterrestrial Alien Anunnaki who started this all, are still here, still rule our world. So what can we do? We, the puppet people, the sheeple who are manipulated daily from top to bottom. They employ us so we participate fully, afraid to lose our jobs, homes, family, freedom, our lives, our simple little lives that mean so much to us and so little to them. Where is the love? Do they feel love?

Somehow we're all connected. They are us and we are they. Realize on the highest of high levels, there are no victims. We generated this passion play, this reality game from the fabric of time and space itself, symbolized in the movie called the matrix. Yes, this is a game and we are the game master, the maker and every character in this movie. We created divine play which is called lila. And if we wake up, figure it out (for that's really what the game is all about, being in the maze, the matrix, the labyrinth of life and figuring out first, that you're in the illusion, you're trapped in here by your own doing and that if you're smart enough you can figure it out then find a way out. The clock is ticking. You created time, a concept to add to the drama. It's 11:59, almost midnight. Time's running out. You have 60 seconds. If you don't do it while you're alive, you're dead and you come back as a baby, totally unconscious and helpless and have to figure it all out again.

And next time around the programmings even heavier because it's Groundhog Day, another round and the Illuminati have tightened the screws, you're screwed, we're screwed because technology's advanced in their favor yet another degree and this time we're micro-chipped from birth. These implants control our minds, our every thought, idea, movement. We're robotitized. We think we're human, but we're androids, super soldiers in the war, the battle and we think this is life. We're here to find love in all this. Each generation's further down the hole.

What can we do? How do we get out of this mess?

We are GodSource manifest in human form. We are consciousness embodied in physical beings. We've done this before. We exist here, there, everywhere including the highest of high levels of consciousness. There's a part of us out there, enlightened, attached to the Creator and all there is, was and ever will be. WE KNOW on some level. We created this in the first place. WE ARE THE CREATOR!!!

WAKE UP!!!!!!

The big Catch-22 of this system which is a system within systems is when we resolve all these issues and wake up, are outside of the game, then what do we do? Obviously we created this all in the first place. Why? Well perhaps we were bored.

Since all is an illusion, there's really no birth, life, death, time, time loop matrix. It's just a computer game, a virtual reality, we'll probably create another game to act out this which we call life. Otherwise, what is there?

Earth is an experiment in consciousness, the lowest dimension, third dimensional physicality. This is the densest vibratory frequency there is. Get it? We're dense! We don't feel each other because we're in skin-encapsulated self senses, desensitized in the first place so we can believe there's self and not self. How can we do these heinous things to ourselves? Yes, there are those who actually kill them SELVES through suicide. But most can't bring themselves to do that. And murdering another, well it's done all the time. Sometimes we justify murder and call it war. We call it self defense. But killing's killing and while many can and have killed, there are those too civilized to contemplate it themselves.

But even then most kill something. When it comes down to it and a mosquito's biting their skin, most swat it and kill it. There are some, like perhaps the Dali Lama. But most kill on some level. It's human nature, after all.

Consciousness is. As long as we exist, and we will exist for we are here now existing. You are here reading this. We are. So for as long as we are we are consciousness who have agreed to go unconscious to participate in this game, the Earth virtual reality game so we can experience this thing we call life and have experiences. And if we're lucky within the game we'll find love, experience love, enjoy it and have fun now and again, get some laughs along the way. Love is truly the way out of this. Love is our greatest weapon against war. If you love someone, truly love them, you'll never harm them.

Answer is, love everyone.

I'll finish this diatribe with a short story. I had a lucid dream, the kind where you're aware you're dreaming. There was a great flood and earthquakes. I came into the dream witnesses from above myself carrying two cats in cages. I was running uphill as fast as I could, a backpack on my back and two cats. So I was probably toting at least 40 or 50 pounds and running uphill. That in itself is a feat I don't believe I could do, so I knew it was a virtual reality right off and if it was true, then I must've had so much adrenalin pumping, I was superwoman.

At that point began a communicating with God. I was running, in full communication with someone with greater awareness who was instructing me to get to high ground, the top of the mountain and there I would be beamed up on board the ship and taken to safety.

I stopped, right there mid stride, in my tracks and said, "But wait! What about the others?"

God replied, "Don't worry. Everyone you love will be transported to safety along with you."

I still didn't move but pondered the situation. Somehow I knew this was the future for in the now I lay sleeping in my bed in Pennsylvania. This was the future conveyed to me, not by words, but by impressions, concepts, which are more accurate and valid than actually words which are sub-parsing from whole concepts and thus contain programming in every vowel and syllable, are corrupt in that fashion like a computer with a virus.

I knew I was in a dream, a game within this game of life, like putting a VHS tape on hold while you get a drink or take a bathroom break. The movie's still there, on pause, but there's certainly a lot of static going on. Things are clear as mud in the movie.

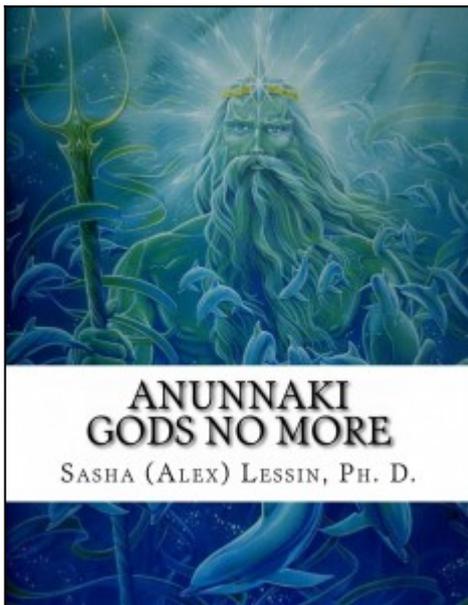

So here I was, observer, witness, being given a glimpse of the wizard behind the curtain and I paused, contemplated, breathed, knew I was in control, had the upper hand and could break this game down to the core of its very existence.

I responded to "God", "Then by the time this day comes I will love everyone in this planet unconditionally and you'll have to take all of us, every man, woman, child, every animal, plant, bug, every creature, feature, mountain, valley, ocean, sky, this whole world, the earth. By the time this day comes I will love it all and you just said that all I love will be saved. So you must, by your own agreement, stop this destruction, as you can because you are God and save us all, from not only this day, but for all time, for eternity."

"Agreed" said God.

And so it is.

Love all completely, totally, unconditionally and all make it. For all who have been created, all souls are like a giant puzzle, each playing their part, each fitting one into another, a puzzle complete only if all pieces are found and, put together and connected. And if one is missing in a puzzle, that hole draws the eye to it and you can't really see anything else but the hole. That is existence, the Universe. We are one giant puzzle and the whole is only complete with all of us in it.

NINMAH by Janet Kira Lessin

NINMAH by Janet Kira Lessin

Ninmah (also known as Ninharsag, Hathor, Great Mother) is the daughter of Anu (King of Nibiru the 10th planet in our solar system), sister and lover of both Enki/Ea and Enlil/Yahweh. Ninmah's the mother of both her brothers' children.

With her beloved Enki and nephew Thoth/Ningishzidda/Quetzalcoatl, Ninmah co-created Homo Sapiens and thus became the MOTHER of HUMANITY. In her womb she bore the first human; a hybrid combining four essential elements; egg from a primitive female, sperm of father Enki, clay of the Earth (Gaia) and womb of an Anunnaki Goddess (Ninmah). All prior valtrex online attempts to create a viable species capable of carrying sentient souls had failed. Homo Sapiens succeeded with the genetic material of man, god and planet.

Listen to Ninmah's story. Ninmah, peacemaker, voice of reason, Mother of Humanity who loves us unconditionally, longs to be heard. Her perspective, lost in the patriarchy, overwritten by women-fearing religions, survives through those who chose to remember. She speaks to us now through the ages, across time and space through those who provide a voice. Listen to her story. Be her voice. She has much to say. Her time is NOW.

2012: Ninmah Returns to Guide Humanity in the Age of Aquarius by Janet Kira Ninmah Lessin

Aloha Everyone,

The Anunnaki were as complex as humans and their characteristics are ours and our characteristics are theirs. We operate on an emotional/psychological kline and some control basic, evil (disregard for consciousness) tendencies better than others. But “nothing in the human condition is alien to any one of us.”

With that being said, we are all, Anunnaki, human and other alien, sentient life forms, souls that inhabit bodies. Our souls are separate entities from our bodies (see the works of Dr. Michael Newton in his series of books on “Life Between Lives”). Our bodies have DNA (programming) that affect the dynamics and personality inherent with the body. The soul and body are in a symbiotic relationship and the soul sometimes struggles with the true nature of the body they chose to inhabit during that current lifetime. But, and, the soul is the most powerful of the two and can overcome the natural tendencies of the body, thus learning the lessons that that lifetime in that body creates for the soul and the soul makes progress as an eternal being.

With that being said, all of us learn, grow, evolve, progress, Anunnaki, Human, Grey, Reptilian, etc. through our various lifetimes. In a way, we evolve faster because of our short lives and our constant going in and out of incarnations back and forth to the spiritual realms. The Anunnaki stay in one physical form for an extremely long time. And while they are long lived, they too have been known to die. And in the case of Thoth (and probably Enki and Ninmah and the others in the Enki-ite clan), they discovered true immortality by interacting with the Galzu in the Halls of Amenti and since we last heard from them (what's been written in stone/clay tablets), they too have probably evolved to a great deal and are now poised, ready to deal with us in a more kind, loving, intelligent, spiritually-advanced fashion than before.

What's keeping them from doing so is the age-old problem that faced them all along—they must wait for the proper “age” in order to take the leadership role. We are now poised at the brink of the Aquarian Age (Enki's age) and when that critical point occurs (probably December 21, 2012), Enki will at last take rulership of the EArth (named after him, EA, EArth) and it's his turn to rule.

With what we know of Enki, he will more than likely be a far more benevolent ruler than any other ruler we've had before. And, from what I get through my channelings, he will not rule alone but will rule in true partnership with his beloved sister Ninmah. Ninmah is the true hero of this tale, long unrecognized for her part in humanity's story. She birthed us, is the geneticist that created us. If not for her science, her discovery and abilities as a geneticist, none of us would be here to read this.

She will at last be recognized and returned to full status as the unsung hero she is. She is the one, after the deluge, that promised us (humanity) that she would not allow us to perish again. So be prepared for Ninmah (her name means Momma, Mother) for she is Goddess who loves us and is now coming back to comfort and guide (not rule) us, her children.

Love, Blessings,
Janet Kira Ninmah Lessin

I see your point Joe. But although that is true it isn't the whole truth nor is it the complete picture. Not all the annunaki were like that. We know a lot about Enlil and Enki and they were the ones in charge, after the Deluge they were a lot more benevolent than before. Enki loved mankind. There is no doubt about that. When we destroy our planet with a global nuclear war probably next year, they will come and help us save our behinds, that is sure.

All I can say is wow, all these guys did was war, have sex and screw each other over, now I see where we humans get it from, these guys just as screwed up as we are because we do the same thing. Use our female as baby makers, they saw our daughters and wanted them too. Damn Anunnaki genes, too much of them in us.
